

North American Sport Dog Association
NASDA Working Dog Trials Workshops & Run Thrus

NASDA offers a variety of classes that feature realistic hunting and searching scenarios using rat quarries, antler shed, and personal belongings

Trailing & Locating – rat quarry hunting trials in rural settings

Urban Locating – rat quarry hunting trials in urban settings

Shed Dog – antler shed hunting in rural settings

Lost Item Recovery – human item searching in urban settings

Introduction To NASDA Workshop – 3 Hour Workshop

Lecture: Rules & Regulations, Q & A (Approximately 1hr)

- Class specs, Level specs
- Judge's role
- Handler's role
- Dog's role
- Point system and deductions
- Trial equipment

Paws On Work: Introduction to NASDA Classes (Approximately 2hrs)

- Introduction to rat odor, quarry boxes and indication behaviors – both rural and urban
- Introduction to antler shed odor, indication and retrieval
- Introduction to personal items and indications – both handler and stranger

Price

$50 – Lecture AND Paws On Working Spot /Person

$25/Person – Audit Lecture Only

$25/Dog Working Spot in Paws On Only

(10 working spots for Paws On, unlimited auditing spots in Lecture)

(Handlers with multiple dogs may run different dogs – providing only 1 dog runs in a class)

Presenter

Jessica Clough owns and operates Montana K9 Sports located in NW Montana. She has been involved in a large variety of dog sports for over 30 years with a variety of breeds. She has been involved in NASDA since 2018. She is a trainer, handler and judge for NASDA, as well as being recently appointed as the NASDA Judging Director. She provides great insight into NASDA from a variety of perspectives.